SISTER ROOFERS ARE STRONGER TOGETHER

SISTERHOOD AND SOLIDARITY AT THE 2022 TWBN CONFERENCE

ROOFER TO ROOFER

BY INTERNATIONAL PRESIDENT JAMES A. HADEL

2023: A Year of Challenges and Opportunities

Every challenge we face is an opportunity to grow. Remember that as we enter the new year. Our primary challenge this year will be responding to the demands for qualified roofers and waterproofers. The potential for work opportunities for our contractors and members is the highest we have witnessed in decades. Opportunities of this magnitude do not occur often, and taking advantage of these times is critical to strengthening and growing our union and improving the lives of our members. Employers in all industries are confronting labor shortages, so competition for a qualified workforce is at an all-time high. But this challenge is an opportunity to grow that we cannot ignore.

Our second challenge leads up to October of this year, when our union will hold its Thirtieth Convention celebrating 120 years of history. The convention is not about celebrating the past, however; its objective is plotting the course for the future. Every five years, local union-elected convention delegates are charged with making decisions regarding the path we as an organization will take going forward. The challenge here is charting a course of action that will enable us to not only respond to labor shortages, but protect our historic work jurisdiction—one that will strengthen our union and improve our members' opportunities to earn a good living.

This convention, the theme will revolve around leadership training. The International Union has drastically improved training for newly elected local union officers over the past few years and will continue to do so. The Leadership Training Program at Washtenaw Community College last year was well attended with positive reviews. We will continue investing resources into that program. In addition, we will continue to provide training programs at district council meetings upon request. In the very near future we will introduce a new training curriculum for local union executive board officers.

Why is local union leadership training important? Because progress and growth of our union occurs at the local level. Effective and educated leaders are visionaries seeking ways to secure work for their members, while increasing membership numbers to increase market share. This allows leaders to negotiate better wages, benefits and working conditions for members. Investment in the training, education and skillset of local union leadership is the most important step we can take in preserving and growing our union.

As we move towards the October convention, keep in mind the principle on which our union was founded: improving the lives of the roofers and waterproofers who toiled in our industry 120 years ago. The Preamble to our Constitution and By-Laws in part reads: "to broaden the scope of usefulness and extend the field of employment of each and every individual member; to protect and improve the economic conditions and quality of life of our membership and all working people, their families and their communities." Accomplishing this requires leaders who are willing to step up to the challenge and learn. Our members deserve it, as well as our union. ■

Why is local union leadership training important? Because progress and growth of our union occurs at the local level. Effective and educated leaders are visionaries seeking ways to secure work for their members, while increasing membership numbers to increase market share.

WORKERS MEMORIAL DAY

WORKERS MEMORIAL DAY APRIL 28, 2023

As we grieve those we have lost from unsafe working conditions, we will organize for safe jobs. We must:

- Guarantee all workers have a safety voice on the job and the right to freely form a union without employer interference or intimidation.
- Ensure all workers can select their own representative during an OSHA inspection.
- Increase efforts to protect Black, Latino and immigrant workers who are disproportionately affected by and especially targeted for speaking up against unsafe working conditions.
- Increase job safety budgets and improve job safety enforcement.
- Win new protections against heat illness, workplace violence, silica exposure in mining, infectious diseases, exposure to asbestos and other toxic chemicals, and other preventable hazardous exposures.
- Pass the Protecting America's Workers Act (PAWA) to provide OSHA protection to the millions of workers without it, stronger criminal and civil penalties for companies that violate job safety laws, and improved anti-retaliation protections.
- Defend hard-won safety and health protections and workers' rights from attacks.

PLAN AND SHARE YOUR WORKERS MEMORIAL DAY EVENT

- Organize a campaign to call for stronger safety and health protections using our digital toolkit. Demand that elected officials put workers' well-being over corporate interests.
- Organize an event at your workplace to stand together to protect the fundamental right to a safe job for every worker and hold your employer accountable for keeping you safe.
- Hold a candlelight vigil, memorial service or moment of silence to remember those who have died on the job and highlight job safety problems in your community.
- Host an event with members of Congress in their districts. Involve injured workers and family members who can talk firsthand about the need for strong safety and health protections, the ability to speak up against unsafe working conditions, and joining together in union to keep workplaces safe. Invite local religious and community leaders and other allies to participate in the event.
- Conduct workshops to train and empower workers to report job safety hazards and exercise workplace rights. Invite union members, nonunion workers and community allies to participate.
- Create a new memorial site at a workplace or in a community where workers have been killed on the job.
- Create and share an online photo and storyboard campaign on social media to remember workers who have been killed on the job.
- Invite the press to your Workers Memorial Day events to increase public awareness of the dangers working people face on the job.
- Continue to hold our leaders and employers accountable to provide safe working conditions. As a labor movement, we mourn for the dead and fight for the living on April 28 and every day of the year.

30th INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION TO ASSEMBLE IN LAS VEGAS

Every five years, the United Union of Roofers, Waterproofers & Allied Workers is required to hold a convention, which provides the foundation to form a unified vision for the next five years of operations. The next International Convention will convene Monday, October 9, 2023, at Tropicana Las Vegas, located on the Las Vegas Strip.

At its heart, the convention serves as a forum for elected delegates from across the country to gather and discuss the future of our Union. Resolutions to the Constitution and By-laws are heard, debated and voted on. Hearings take place that allow delegates to discuss the proposed resolutions, which are offered by local unions, district councils and the International Executive Board. Through this democratic process, everyone has a chance to be heard over the course of the week.

As in the past, this convention promises to be exciting, motivating and constructive. As the union roofing and waterproofing industry—and our Union—continues to forge ahead, we can look forward to a more prosperous future, one that will be shaped by your democratically elected representatives this October.

TRADESWOMEN BUILD NATIONS RETURNS FOR LARGEST GATHERING EVER

3,300 TRADESWOMEN CONVENED IN LAS VEGAS FOR THE 2022 EVENT

Labor Secretary Marty Walsh in solidarity with his union sisters.

On the weekend of October 28 – 30, 2022, more than 3,000 tradeswomen and allies gathered at the Paris Casino in Las Vegas, NV, for North America's Building Trades Unions (NABTU) Tradeswomen Build Nations (TWBN) Conference. TWBN is the largest gathering of any kind for union tradeswomen, and the largest NABTU event, eclipsing even the annual Legislative Conference.

After two years of virtual events due to the Covid pandemic, TWBN returned to the in-person format that has become a beloved tradition among women members of the building trades unions. Every year the (in-person) conference sets a new attendance record, and last year was no different, besting the previous record of over 2,800 set in Minneapolis in 2019. The year-to-year growth of this conference has been phenomenal and is not expected to slow.

The three-day conference focused on a theme of "Stronger Together" and included a number of workshops and notable professional and industry speakers during the two plenary sessions. AFL-CIO President (and IBEW member) Liz Shuler, NABTU President Sean McGarvey, and Secretary of Labor Marty Walsh were among the weekend's speakers, illustrating that this conference is able to draw the biggest voices in the labor movement.

The conference also offered opportunities to socialize and show union pride. In addition to a welcome reception and a Roofers dinner, attendees took part in one of the traditional highlights of the weekend—the banner parade. This year’s parade was Las Vegas-style: energetic, fun, and over the top. Thousands of sisters and allies marched up and down the famous Las Vegas Strip carrying banners and loudly chanting. The spectacle was amazing and inspiring.

Marking the first time a Roofers international president has attended TWBN, President Jim Hadel spent the weekend watching speakers, marching in the parade, and generally getting to know all the Roofers and Waterproofers who made the trip out to Las Vegas. As he addressed the Roofers caucus, he implored every attendee to make it her mission to personally recruit at least five more women into the trade to not only grow our union, but to help women have a stronger voice.

Roofers and Waterproofers represented 35 attendees from 15 local unions. While this is a strong showing from our union, there are hundreds of women on our rosters who are not being given the opportunity to meet, network, and find support with their tradeswomen sisters. We hope that this year’s conference in Washington, DC, will have even greater turnout of Roofers and Waterproofers, and that our union will continue to recruit and retain the women who make our organization strong and diverse!

President Hadel addresses the Roofers & Waterproofers caucus.

RESEARCH AND EDUCATION JOINT TRUST FUND:

Keith Vitkovich, Executive Director

GENERAL COUNSEL:

Librado Arreola

At this time President Hadel read the International board call letter dated November 15, 2022, submitted by Secretary-Treasurer Mitchell Terhaar.

President Hadel started the meeting by reviewing the agenda for the day followed by the announcement of a personal appearance for Case 1756 by Travis Hopkins on behalf of Local 49, Portland, OR.

President Hadel reported on the work hours based on the Research and Education hours submitted as of November 2022.

President Hadel then discussed the total number of hours worked over the last ten years based on NRIPP hours reported. The Executive Board discussed ways to improve overall membership growth and ways to increase work hours. An action plan will be shared with the locals at a later date.

President Hadel reported on the Local Union Leadership Training Program (LTP) that will be held June 12-16, 2023. He discussed the schedule for the week and the classes that will be held. The classes consist of: Basic Computer Skills, Cash Receipts Record (CRR) Training, Business Communications, Business Etiquette, Principles of Management, Labor Law in the Construction Industry and a Basic Accounting class. The classes will be offered to any local union officer who would like to improve their business skills.

President Hadel reported on the Union Veterans Council stating that the council was a division of the AFL-CIO but has recently branched out as an independent organization. With this change the per capita payment structure has changed and will be paid directly to the Union Veterans Council. A discussion was had in regards to the per capita increase and approved.

President Hadel reported that the NRIPP is currently funded at 113.4% for 2022 and the National Health & Welfare contribution rate increase has been waived for 2023. A letter has been sent out to the participating locals and their signatory contractors informing them of the health fund contribution holiday.

President Hadel reported on the following upcoming trade shows and conferences for 2023: North East Roofing Contractors Association (NERCA) trade show February 7-9, Uncasville, CT; North America's Building Trades Unions (NABTU) Legislative Conference April 23-26, Washington, DC; International Roofing Expo (IRE) March 7-9, Dallas, TX; Western States Roofing Contractors Association (WSRCA) trade show September 23-25, Las Vegas, NV; Midwest Roofing Contractors Association (MRCA) trade show October 18-20, Omaha, NE; and the annual NABTU Women's conference TBD, Washington, DC.

At this time, President Hadel called on Secretary-Treasurer Terhaar to review the following cases, which were brought before the Executive Board for their consideration and hearing.

CASE 1756 — Appeal by Russ Garnett, #231439, member of Local Union 49, Portland, OR, from certain action taken against him by Local Union 49.

After a lengthy discussion, and after considering all evidence and the testimony in this matter, the International Executive Board sustained the appeal and overruled the decision of the Local 49 Trial Board and ordered a new trial.

CASE 1757 — Appeal by Orlando Castellon, #261429, member of Local Union 81, Oakland, CA, from certain action taken against him by Local Union 81.

Secretary-Treasurer Terhaar reported that the appellant to Case 1757 had requested to withdraw his appeal.

CASE 1758 — Appeal by Carlos Opfermann, #228071, member of Local Union 81, Oakland, CA from certain action taken against him by Local Union 81.

Secretary-Treasurer Terhaar reported that the appellant to Case 1758 had requested to withdraw his appeal.

President Hadel reported on his meeting with Executive Director McKay Daniels of the National Roofing Contractors Association (NRCA). They discussed the challenges within the roofing industry and the material shortages throughout the country. They talked about the great working relationship between the union and the NRCA and the need to keep that strong. There was a discussion by the board on NRCA membership and the annual cost. A motion was made, seconded and carried, with Vice President Ziegler voting no, to approve the annual membership.

President Hadel called on International Representative Kevin King to stand. He congratulated Brother King for his 25 years of service and accomplishments as a member of the United Union of Roofers, Waterproofers and Allied Workers and presented him with his 25-year pin and card.

President Hadel then reported on the Executive Board oversight training for all officers as part of the Leadership Training Program. This will become part of the International Representatives duties to ensure that all officers understand their roles and obligations as an officer of their union. This will be done on a biennial basis.

President Hadel reported that the theme for the 30th International Convention will be Leadership-Empowering the Future and that the Convention Fund is in good shape. In addition, the International office staff has been moving forward with convention planning.

There was discussion on Article V, Section 5 of the International Constitution on the expense money for the delegates and the need to increase it due to the higher cost of travel. After the discussion a motion was made, seconded and carried to approve to increase the expense money for each convention delegate to one thousand, three hundred and fifty dollars ($1,350.00) plus ten cents ($.10) per mile.

President Hadel then gave an overview of all resolutions submitted as of January 25, 2023. He called on General Counsel Librado Arreola to discuss and review Resolution #1 and #2 with his updates and suggested changes to the International Constitution and By-Laws. After reviewing both resolutions General Counsel Arreola will make the suggested changes and present them at the next Executive Board meeting.

Resolution #3 regarding Article II, Section 5 of the International By-laws. After discussion was held, more information was requested by the Board and will be presented at the next Executive Board meeting.

Resolution #4 Support for ERT. After discussion was held, a motion was made, seconded and approved as written.

Resolution #5 regarding Supporting Diversity in our trade. After discussion was held, a motion was made, seconded and approved as written.

Resolution #6 regarding Supporting John Martini Organizing Award. After discussion was held, a motion was made, seconded and approved as written.

Resolution #7 regarding Support for Union Sportsmen's Alliance (USA). After discussion was held, a motion was made, seconded and approved as written.

Resolution #8 regarding support for Project Labor Agreements (PLAs). After discussion was held, a motion was made, seconded and approved as written.

Resolution #9 regarding support for National Maintenance Agreements (NMAs). After discussion was held and revisions made, a motion was made, seconded and approved.

Resolution #10 regarding support for Helmets to Hardhats (H2H). After discussion was held and revisions made, a motion was made, seconded and approved.

Resolution #11 regarding Article VI, Section 2 of the International Constitution. After discussion was held, more information was requested by the Board and will be presented at the next Executive Board meeting.

Resolution #12 regarding Article IV, Section 3 (f) of the International By-Laws. After discussion was held there was a recommendation to increase the sum from five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) to six thousand dollars ($6,000.00). After revisions were made, a motion was made, seconded and approved.

Resolution #13 regarding Zero Loss-time injuries. After discussion was held, a motion was made, seconded and approved as written.

Resolution #14 regarding Suicide Prevention. After discussion was held and revisions made, a motion was made, seconded and approved.

Resolution #15 regarding the use of Opioids. After discussion was held, a motion was made, seconded and approved as written.

A discussion was had pertaining to Article V, Section 6 and 7 of the International By-Laws regarding re-enrollment and retirement per capita fees.

President Hadel continued his convention report by asking the Board to encourage the locals to send in pictures of members to be used at the convention. He reported that the credentials, resolutions and agenda will be digital and that an iPad will be provided for each delegate.

President Hadel ended his convention report by appointing Vice President Gary Menzel to serve with Vice President Paul Bickford and Mike Stiens on the Entertainment Sub-Committee.

President Hadel reported that the International staff are currently working on the development of an electronic membership application and hope to have it ready for the locals soon.

President Hadel reported on the National Apprentice Competition saying that a committee has been established to develop rules and an outline for the competition. A start date has been set for May 2024. President Hadel expressed the importance of encouraging the locals to take part and to get their apprentices involved. The winners from each regional council competition will then take part in the national competition.

President Hadel called on Vice President Mike Vasey to give his report.

Brother Vasey reported that Rebuild USA is highlighting infrastructure and the apprenticeship programs with online videos, which are showing wide success. They have released weekly legislative work done by the Democratic Congress and President Biden and are increasing the visibility of Rebuild USA and the Building Trades overall. Moving forward the committee will take its success patterns and expand the general and overall goals nationally. Rebuild USA is doing a great job with communication to the union membership.

Brother Vasey then gave a brief overview of his local unions and the Mid-States District Council. The locals' membership numbers have grown in his area and with the workload coming into Ohio they feel it will add to the numbers. The locals have increased their starting wages to help with the recruiting of new workers for their signatory contractors. Lastly, Brother Vasey said that the Mid-States District Council had their election of officers and that they ran unopposed.

President Hadel called on Market Development Director Jeff Eppenstein to give his report.

Brother Eppenstein reported on the membership numbers for 2022 and 2023. He reported on the membership applications for this year and the number of emails received from our "becoming a member" website. He gave a progress report on the marketing team and their focused efforts on recruiting. He gave an update on the success of the Puerto Rico marketing drive. Lastly, Brother Eppenstein finished his report by speaking about the partnership they have developed with GAF Roofing Academy and how they have been working together to recruit roofers to the industry. This program has provided new members for our local union contractors.

President Hadel called on Executive Director Keith Vitkovich of the Roofers and Waterproofers Research and Education Trust Fund to give a report on the Trust Fund's initiatives.

Brother Vitkovich began speaking about the status of the Trust Fund directly providing OSHA 510, 500 and 502 courses that are required for those seeking to become or continue to be outreach instructors that will have the capabilities to instruct OSHA 10 & 30-hour outreach classes. He continued this discussion stating that every local/JATC should have at least one outreach instructor that has the capabilities to provide this training to its local members.

He then reported that registration for the 2023 National Instructor Training Program will be sent out during the first week of February and registration will be closing during mid-March. He then reported that the Trust Fund has developed new brochures that provide more detailed information about the Fund's actions and capabilities.

Lastly, Brother Vitkovich reported that the Roofers Safety and Health program booklets that can be utilized by instructors providing OSHA 10 and 30 hour courses are now available in Spanish and they are now in the process of having the electronic presentations translated.

President Hadel called on Assistant to the International President Jordan Ritenour for his report.

Brother Ritenour reported on a jurisdictional issue with another NABTU union on roof removal. He has been working with a representative of the other union to resolve this issue. He then reported on the multi-billion dollar projects being built under NMAs and PLAs in the Midwest area and the demand that this will put on the local unions for manpower.

President Hadel called on Secretary-Treasurer Mitch Terhaar for his report.

Brother Terhaar reported on the local union audits stating that there are no delinquent audits at this time. There are three contracts that need to be signed, two in Michigan and one in Arizona.

Brother Terhaar then gave a brief report on the trusteeship of Local 248. He gave an update on the local's membership numbers, the work hours for 2022 and the financial statements for the local. He reported on the Pension Trust Fund and stated that they will be filing for special financial assistance with the American Rescue Act in March. Brother Terhaar finished up with a report on the conditions of the other trust funds and their financials.

Brother Terhaar then reported on the Emergency Response Team (ERT). The program has helped several families since it has been established. He reported that Fred Gee has been hired as Assistant Director to support and assist overseeing the program. Brother Terhaar then reported that they're looking to add two new responders this year and training is scheduled for August 2023. Lastly, they are currently in the process of updating manuals and marketing materials.

Secretary-Treasurer Terhaar read a draft submitted by General Council Librado Arreola of the Rules for the Submission of Resolutions to the 30th International Convention to the Board. A motion was made, seconded and carried to approve the draft as presented.

President Hadel reported on an upcoming organizing meeting in the Northwest region to discuss jurisdictional problems with the UBC. This meeting will include all business managers from the local unions in this area to discuss strategies to protect our work.

At this time President Hadel called upon Secretary-Treasurer Terhaar to review the assignments made since September 1, 2022. Following the review and corrections notated, a motion was made, seconded and carried to approve all of the assignments.

President Hadel called on Vice President Paul Bickford for his report.

Brother Bickford reported on his signatory contractors stating that work is good but manpower is going to be an issue. The local has added two new contractors and all Collective Bargaining Agreements are signed at this time.

President Hadel called on Vice President Bob Peterson for his report.

Brother Peterson reported that work is good in their area and that providing manpower will be an issue. Both Locals 149, Detroit, MI, and 70, Ann Arbor, MI, have been working well together with the jurisdictional boundaries. Under the NMA work in the state of Michigan the Building Trades have been discussing on how to deal with the drug policies in the agreements due to law changes in the state.

President Hadel called on Vice President Mike Stiens for his report.

Brother Stiens reported that Local 136, Atlanta, GA, had their local union election and have sworn in the new officers. They have moved the local out of trusteeship and into supervision for a 12-month period. The local has paid all financial obligations and is current with the International.

President Hadel called on Vice President Joe Pozzi for his report.

Brother Pozzi reported he has been assisting with the Leadership Training at several local unions. He's been proactive working with the locals on organizing tactics, attending bid openings and pre-job meetings. He ended his report stating that the UBC is still actively stopping at the signatory contractors' job sites in the Indiana area.

President Hadel called on International Representative Kevin King for his report.

Brother King gave an update on the local unions in his jurisdiction. Local 182, Cedar Rapids, IA, and 142, Des Moines, IA, have been working on their apprenticeship programs and Local 97, Champaign, IL, will start teaching within the week. Local 32, Rock Island, IL, had some records destroyed from water damage at the facility they are renting and are working on preserving what documents they can.

President Hadel called on International Representative Leo Marsura for his report.

Brother Marsura thanked President Hadel and the Executive Board for their support and trust to appoint him to the International Representative position for the Northwest. He then gave an update on the locals he represents. He has been working with a new representative at Local 189, Spokane, WA, to acclimate him to the business manager position. Lastly, he ended his report by discussing Local 49, Portland, OR, and 58, Colorado Springs, CO, business.

President Hadel called on International Representative Jim Brown for his report.

Brother Brown gave a report on the local unions he represents covering issues that they are having at the locals. He said that the locals have a lot of work coming up on the East coast and see manpower as the biggest hurdle this year. He discussed the need to improve the apprenticeship training programs at the locals to assure quality trained roofers. Lastly, he has been helping with the trusteeship at Local 248, Springfield, MA, and working with the membership to find an organizer for the local.

President Hadel called on Vice President Gary Menzel for his report.

Brother Menzel reported on the passing of the Illinois constitutional amendment protecting collective bargaining within the State and thanked all that helped support it. He stated that this will now guarantee workers the right to collectively bargaining in the state of Illinois. He discussed an ongoing jurisdictional issue in downtown Chicago over boom truck licensing. He then discussed the political fight for the position of Mayor of Chicago and the candidates that are running. Lastly, Brother Menzel discussed their organizing efforts in the Madison, WI, area and the training that is being done at the new apprenticeship facility in Milton, WI. Brother Menzel hopes to sign a contractor to the Madison agreement soon.

President Hadel called on Vice President Brent Beasley for his report.

Brother Beasley reported on the heavy workload in the western region. He has conveyed to the locals the importance of providing the manpower for the contractors. He reported on the newly elected Business Manager Peter Lang at Local 40, San Francisco, CA, and gave an update on political efforts they are working on in the area.

President Hadel called on Vice President Dan O'Donnell for his report.

Brother O'Donnell reported on the new union facility and open house Local 2 recently held. They received positive reviews on the new training center and will be hiring new trainers for the apprenticeship program. Lastly, Brother O'Donnell discussed issues with the UBC and their signatory contractors.

President Hadel asked for a motion to approve all bills for the Executive Board meeting. A motion was made, seconded and carried that the bills and costs deemed necessary and proper relating to the scheduled meeting be approved in accordance with the authority in Article VII, Section 14 of the International Constitution.

There being no further business to come before the Board, the meeting was adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,

Mitchell L. Terhaar
International Secretary-Treasurer

Secretary-Treasurer's Letter

BY MITCH L. TERHAAR, INTERNATIONAL SECRETARY-TREASURER

Our Union's Elected Positions and Why They Matter to You

Brothers and Sisters, Despite your convictions, the sentiment that providing the power of a group to decide the future of your organization is easy to agree with. As a labor union, we firmly believe in making decisions and plans collectively instead of siloing away from those we serve. This is why electing the right people in our leadership roles is so vital to the future of our organization.

Every three years, your local union holds an election to choose officers per your constitution and by-laws. These elections determine the next round of officers, including the President, Vice President, Business Manager/Financial Secretary/Treasurer, Recording Secretary, Trustees, and Sergeant at Arms. The positions may vary from local to local, but the fact remains that when the cycle ends, the union members are called to fill what's needed to push their organization forward.

That's where you, a member of this union, come into play. Once elected, these officers will oversee your local union's day-to-day operations. They will sit on your health and welfare fund and pension fund board for the next three years! They will oversee negotiations for your contracts and even manage the apprenticeship training. As union officers, they play a vital role in the protection and security of your livelihood and that of your family.

To secure the right votes and choose wisely in the election process, it's essential that you're equipped with the proper knowledge of how each of these roles function. After all, it was Einstein who said, "Any fool can know. The point is to understand." So, let's take a closer look at what you're voting for.

President

This office is responsible for oversight of the chapter/organization. The officer will ensure that the organization's mission and goals are upheld and kept center focus with every decision and plan.

Vice President

Like the president, this office will support the oversight regarding the plans and decisions made. The vice president will support the president and assist with leadership and direction for the organization.

Business Manager/ Financial Secretary/ Treasurer

The most recognizable role would be that of the business manager. Think of this office as the organization's director of operations. Much like a company's business manager, this officer oversees operations across departments and assists with hiring, conducting office meetings, and overseeing productivity and member morale. They also oversee all financial transactions, fundraising, and assistance with monetary responsibilities. Some of the duties this officer will assist with include budgeting, reporting, record-keeping, financial management, and disbursements.

Recording Secretary

Robust record-keeping is vital to ensuring transparency and communication for our union. The office of the recording secretary directly oversees the accurate records of all business decisions, transactions, meeting minutes, and member information.

Trustees

A trustee's primary responsibility is to ensure accountability and legitimacy within the organization's decisions and planning. These officers will make sure money and/or assets are used appropriately for union purposes and with the proper authority and oversight. They will also make sure that all operations are compliant with legal requirements.

Sergeant at Arms

This office is responsible for introducing new members and visitors to the organization. The officer also directly assists the president and manages various duties and unassigned properties when called upon by the organization.

The above offices all work together to protect your interests and ensure your union works for you as it should. However, the most important office of our union is not the elected officers, but you—the electorate.

When the time comes to vote, don't let decisions be made without your input. After all, this is YOUR union! Your vote matters—your input matters—protect your future. ■

The Washington Connection

BY JORDAN RITENOUR, ASSISTANT TO THE INTERNATIONAL PRESIDENT

When You Voted Pro-Union, You Voted for a Better Life

The mid-term elections have come and gone. For many politicians the election didn't go as they had planned, much like the former presidential election. For us, with the amount of work coming, we have a giant opportunity for growth, especially with the very union-friendly president we currently have, but we took it to the next level and were able to get pro-union politicians elected. Some are even building trades union members.

The efforts of union brothers and sisters across the country to "Get Out the Vote" helped keep many of our elected friends in place and get new friends into office. With these wins, some of these allies have been the "Workers' Rights Amendment" passed. This new law gives unions a legal backstop against so called "right-to-work" restrictions and makes it clear that in Illinois, workers have the right to organize and bargain collectively. This law takes it a step further to state, "no law shall be passed that interferes with, negates, or diminishes the right of employees to organize and bargain collectively." This legislation is a template that we should have in place in every state. Now is the time to get stronger pro-labor laws into place as the tide is in our favor.

Through education and the demonstration of the importance of voting for candidates who support our concerns and issues, our membership will grow. We will be able to support our livelihood and ourselves much better with these friendly politicians in place. Not to mention our industry will prosper.

Organized labor, good strong union members like you, played a key role in the election cycle. We want you to be proud of that fact and say thank you for being active in the political process. We helped get them elected to these positions—now we must hold them accountable. ■ must not wait for tomorrow, now is the time to act.

Thanks to Biden administration legislation (CHIPS Act, Inflation Reduction Act, Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act) massive projects are starting to roll in. And due to requirements he put in place, they will be done under some form of project labor agreement (PLA) or National Maintenance Agreement (NMA). We did a great job across the country getting labor-friendly politicians elected. Some locations appointed to labor committees, and further, the committee chair. This will be of great value if and when some anti-union, ABC politician decides to try to introduce anti-prevailing wage or anti-PLA legislation.

People like Pennsylvania Senator John Fetterman, Illinois State Comptroller Susana Mendoza and Ohio State Representative Mark Johnson will always have our backs. In addition to electing union-friendly folks to key positions, voters in Illinois were successful in getting

The efforts of union brothers and sisters across the country to "Get Out the Vote" helped keep many of our elected friends in place and get new friends into office.

Marketing Issues

BY JEFF EPPENSTEIN, DIRECTOR OF MARKET DEVELOPMENT

Industry Partners Can Be Key in Recruitment Efforts

There are many industry resources available to assist our membership and raise the level of quality, production and professionalism for our signatory contractors. Many JATC programs utilize Polyglass, Carlisle, Holcim Group (formerly Firestone), and other manufacturers to gain hands-on knowledge of specifications and install procedures. This results in roofing projects done right the first time in accordance with warranty specifications, and a goal of zero punch list items. I would like to focus on an industry partner who is taking it to the next level.

The Marketing Department has been working with the GAF Roofing Academy to bring new roofers and waterproofers into the industry, and more specifically, into good-paying union careers. With the high demand for workers in this country, let us not miss any opportunities. Our contractors are at an all-time high demand for workers, and we must deliver. So consider this is a knock on the door...ANSWER IT!

ATTENTION: District councils, local unions, JATCs and signatory contractors—the GAF Roofing Academy is making a multimillion-dollar investment in recruiting veterans, women, job corps students, recovery residents, and people from underserved communities onto a path to good-paying roofing and waterproofing careers.

For seven years the GAF Roofing Academy has marketed and recruited people all across the country to attend a 1-2 week class that lays out a basic understanding and hands-on application geared to residential, commercial, sales and warehouse skills. The GAF goal is to train over 1,500 people a year and to place over 50% with good contractors.

DETAILS: GAF will work directly with us to recruit people to attend “introduction to roofing” classes. This program will focus on teaching the basics of low slope commercial roofing installation. GAF will provide a $250/week stipend for attending all days and being on time. Instruction is provided in classroom and hands-on training with shingles and TPO materials. Students are also provided an online link for obtaining an OSHA 10 card. Graduates of the class will have the knowledge and skills to enter into the commercial roofing industry.

Recent GAF graduates with Jeff Eppenstein, Bill Alexander and Steven Crim with the Marketing Dept.; GAF Reps Roderick Colvin Sr., Gary Pierson and Felix Rosario; and Star Roofing Pres. Pete Schmutz.

Upon completion, graduates will have the opportunity to interview with certified contractors and employers in the area for full-time employment. Once hired, program graduates receive a $200 set of tools on behalf of GAF.

Several locals and contractors have scheduled these classes, and we are looking for more to get on board with this great program. If you would like more information on the program or hosting an event in your area, contact a Marketing Department representative. ■

The GAF Roofing Academy is focused on training the following:

- Transitioning military
- Recent immigrants
- Underprivileged youth
- Formerly incarcerated

Requirements:

- 18 years of age and older with a valid driver's license
- Physically able to lift and carry 50 lbs
- Able to work in outdoor conditions safely and at heights
- Looking for full-time employment with career potential within the roofing industry

TPO detail class gaining a head start towards a career in roofing and waterproofing.

Meeting the Need for OSHA 10 in Spanish

On January 3–4, 2023, the Roofers & Waterproofers Research and Education Trust Fund provided and presented an OSHA 10 class in Spanish for Roofers Local 86, Columbus, OH. Business Manager Marvin Cochran had reached out to the Trust Fund in need of an OSHA 10 class in Spanish for some of its local members.

The Trust Fund has a 20-subject Safety & Health Training Program (electronic presentations and safety and health booklets) that local-authorized OSHA Outreach Instructors can utilize when presenting OSHA 10 and 30 hour courses. The Trust Fund had just finished having all 20 of its Safety & Health booklets translated into Spanish, so qualified instructors can provide the same quality of training in Spanish as in English.

This OSHA 10 class in Spanish was presented by instructors Joel Gonzalez and Juan Villalpando. Local 86 participants included Joseph Martinez, Octavio Gomez, Guadalupe Guardado, Dustin Martinez, Hector Roche, Luis Gomez, Victor Mendoza Estrada, Karlos Guzman, Reinaldo Martinez, Estuardo Canek, Martin Gomez, and Prudencio Perez. ■

Foreman Training Has No Signs of Slowing Down

The Roofers & Waterproofers Research and Education Trust Fund has been busy providing Foreman 1 and Foreman 2 Training Programs over the last few months. The training is delivered to local unions across the country upon request. This extremely popular program continues to operate at capacity and the calendar for the upcoming year is quickly filling up.

The program is widely acclaimed for its approach to training members to take on leadership positions on the roof. Students come to realize that foremen are more than just supervisors, they also teach and coach. They need to adjust to different styles and cultures of their crew, and they need to motivate by example. In addition, they organize the crew to function at its highest level and deal with conflict and discipline effectively.

Local 4, Newark, NJ

Foreman Training at Roofers Local 4, Newark, NJ, was offered October 12–13, 2022. This was a Foreman Training Part 1 class and was instructed by Marty Headtke, Dan Knight and Joel Gonzalez. Participants included Geoffrey McSween, Carl Bager Jr., Richard Stewart, Matthew Ali, Darius Tucker, Kervyns Laurent, Eban Frederick, Shakiyl Blakely, Colin Cunliffe, Timothy Lombardi, Nickolas Alvarado, Thomas McDermott, David Boulton, Rostislav Kisel, and Lasana Sinera.

Local 22, Rochester, NY

Foreman Training at Roofers Local 22, Rochester, NY, took place December 1–2, 2022. This was a Foreman Training Part 2 class and was instructed by Jim Currie, Dan Knight, and Geoff McSween. Participants included Bradley Cohen, George VerWeire, Ondrae Florence, Jesse Ellis, Josh Will, Greg Haffen, Justin Pusey, and Adam Hoffman.

Local 149, Detroit, MI

Foreman Training at Roofers Local 149, Detroit, MI, was held December 14–15, 2022. This was a Foreman Training Part 1 class and was instructed by Richard Tessier, James Currie, and Dan Knight. Participants included Michael Gayle, Allen Montoya, Jon Gumm, Ed Schweyer, Dee Elliott, Marcus Perry, Kevin Hungerford, Dennis Millen, Mark Hook, Robert Wilder, William Allen, Paul Vella, Charles Wallace, Donald Brown, Ronald Peltier, Scott Maliszewski, Robert Colston, Craig

Wiegert, Michael Bocook, Zach Gilliam, Drew Sundt, Michael Lefebvre, and Kyle Dupont.

Local 182, Cedar Rapids, IA

Foreman Training was held at Roofers Local 182, Cedar Rapids, IA, January 9–12, 2023. There were two Foreman Training Part 1 classes and they were instructed by Marty Headtke, Jim Currie, and Joel Gonzalez. Participants included Brad McKim, Matt Nemecek, William Erger, Justin Martin, Spencer Waterman, Phil Baccam, Scott Bruns, Shawn Jasper, Stephen Gomez, Dakota Truesdell, Steve Wickersheim, Brandon Kelly, Matt Hogan, Mike Klamon, Joseph Crow, Brandt McCormick, Mike Shaffer, Andrew Losch, Robert Hammes, Areola Sergio, Kerry Noeler, Quan Nguyen, Travis Doudney, Kevin Bruns, Logan Cox, Josh Mather, Denny Mockmore, Jon Frank, Eric Rawson, Zack Heineman, Mike Schaffer, Adam Davis, Mike Stoneking, Nathan Harris, Chris Simmons, Will Rhoades, and Kyle Smith.

Local 10, Paterson, NJ

Foreman Training was held at Roofers Local 10, Paterson, NJ, on January 25–26, 2023. This was a Foreman Training Part 1 class and was instructed by Marty

“The instructors present a wealth of knowledge that I will be able to take back in the field.”

Headtke, Joel Gonzalez, and Geoff McSween. Participants included Edward Bonchek, Brian Rivera, Otis Miller, Arturo Cabello, Timothy Knox, Jonathan Estevez, Brian Jackson, Henning Kristinsen, Adrienne Sullivan, Ricardo Lopez, Anderson Granados, Artemio Cuautle, Jake Musto, Kendrick Ferguson, and Francisco Pena.

Foreman Training Part 1: The Role of the Foreman

- Communication Skills
- Problem Solving
- Roofers Math & Measurements
- Safety Skills
- Teaching Skills
- Anti-Harassment in the Workplace

Foreman Training Part 2: Managing the Project and the Workforce

- Reading Plans and Specifications
- Planning and Starting the Project
- Motivating and Reinforcing Workers
- Leadership Styles
- Documentation and Recording Information

The programs consistently receive positive feedback from members, business managers and contractors. Many participants point out that the combination of classroom and hands-on training makes it particularly effective.

Business managers and/or apprenticeship coordinators can contact Executive Director Keith J. Vitkovich at (202) 463-7663 or keithv@unionroofers.com for more information or scheduling. We recommend scheduling well in advance as this is a very popular class and availability is minimal. ■

RF RADIATION

AN INVISIBLE DANGER

What is RF Radiation?

Radiofrequency (RF) radiation, a type of non-ionizing radiation, is the energy used to transmit wireless information. At low levels it is not considered a hazard. But at the levels produced by telecommunications equipment, including radio, television, and cellular antennas, RF radiation can “pose a considerable health risk”¹ for workers. As demand for cellular and wireless services grows, more of these antennas are being placed on rooftops and sides of buildings. Many are disguised to hide their presence.

What to look for...

Antennas that generate RF radiation come in different shapes and sizes and emit RF radiation in different directions. Rectangular panel antennas or dish-shaped transmitting antennas* generally send out RF radiation in one direction. Cylindrical or rod-shaped antennas emit RF radiation in more than one direction up to 360 degrees. Hidden antennas are designed to blend into their surroundings. They can be stand-alone (e.g. a flag pole) or a panel that blends into the side of a building, chimney, rooftop, or sign. These antennas are harder to identify and make it difficult to determine the RF radiation emitting direction.

Are you in danger?

Do you perform work where telecommunications antennas are present? If the answer is YES, then you could be exposed to hazardous levels of RF radiation.

Faux chimney conceals 15 panel antennas

Why it's dangerous...

- ▶ RF radiation is invisible.
- ▶ Power levels vary. The amount of RF radiation can be low when you start working and then spike to higher levels without warning.
- ▶ Symptoms are often delayed. By the time you feel the symptoms, such as overheating, reddening of the skin, and burns, you have already been over-exposed.
- ▶ Your risk increases the closer you are to the antenna and the longer you work in the RF radiation field.

RF radiation may interfere with medical devices (e.g. pacemakers), and concerns have been raised about possible non-thermal effects (e.g. nerve damage and psychological injuries).

Find out more about construction hazards.

To receive copies of this Hazard Alert and cards on other topics

Call 301-578-8500

Know the basics...

1 Ask questions Ask your supervisor if cellular antennas or other RF radiation generating antennas are present. At a minimum, do your own visual assessment. The building owner or property manager should have, or know whom to contact for, information on the antennas, their locations, and the RF radiation levels.

2 Follow instructions When RF radiation is present, warning signs should be posted that include information on the hazard and a point of contact for information on the antenna. If you need to work within the RF field, the antenna owner should move or temporarily power down the device.² Ask your supervisor to confirm it's been powered down before proceeding.

IMAGE COURTESY OF OSHA - PRESENTATION NON-IONIZING RADIATION: SIGNAGES AND REGULATIONS: SLIDE #112: OCT 2009

3 Keep your distance Avoid standing right in front of or close to antennas. If there are antennas where you are working or on buildings close by, make sure the antennas are not pointed directly toward your work area. At a minimum, stay 6 feet away from a single antenna or 10 feet away from a group of antennas. A personal RF monitor and/or RF protective clothing may be needed. A monitor should sound an alarm if you are in an area where RF radiation is at a dangerous level. Protective clothing will shield you up to 1,000% of the FCC's maximum permissible exposure limit (MPE). It will not protect you from electrical shocks or arc flash.

If you think you are in danger:

Contact your supervisor. Contact your union.

Call the antenna owner

The contact information should be listed on the warning sign(s) or provided by the site owner/manager. Tell them you are a construction worker, describe the work you will be performing near the RF radiation generating antennas, and express your concern about an exposure hazard. Request a site power down for any work performed within the hazardous area or written confirmation that it is safe to perform work as described without a power down. If there are multiple antennas, repeat this process with each antenna owner.

HAZARD ALERT

OPIOID DEATHS IN CONSTRUCTION

Why Are Construction Workers at Risk?

- ▶ The construction industry has one of the highest injury rates compared to other industries.
- ▶ Opioids are often prescribed to treat the pain caused by these injuries.
- ▶ Long-term opioid use can make people more sensitive to pain and decrease the opioid's pain-reducing effects.

According to the CDC, 1 out of 4 people prescribed opioids for long-term pain become addicted.

Injured Construction Workers Often...

- ▶ Cannot continue to work while injured.
- ▶ Suffer a loss in income. Even if an injured worker receives workers' compensation, it is often not enough to make up for lost pay.
- ▶ Experience anxiety, stress, and depression, which can add to the pain and are additional risk factors for addiction.

Overdose Deaths Are On the Rise.

- ▶ In 2020 alone, there were more than 93,000 overdose deaths in the U.S.—nearly 75% of which involved an opioid.¹ Opioid-related overdose deaths increased 36.7% over 2019.²
- ▶ These increases were exacerbated by the COVID-19 pandemic because of isolation, loss of loved ones, stress, unemployment, precarious housing, decreased access to treatment services, and more.³
- ▶ Construction workers are significantly more likely to die from an opioid overdose than the average worker — studies in both Ohio and Massachusetts, for example, showed they were seven times more likely.^{4,5}
- ▶ Additionally, a past study has shown that more than half of those who died from an overdose had suffered at least one job-related injury.⁶

Protect Yourself!

1 Prevent Injuries

Work shouldn't hurt. Your employer should be committed to a safe job site, and you should use safe practices. Together these reduce the risk of injuries and therefore the need for pain medication.

Getting help lifting heavy materials can reduce the risk for injury.

2 Talk to a Doctor

Opioids are addictive and can have side effects.

Ask about:

- ▶ Other forms of pain medication that are not addictive and have fewer side effects.
- ▶ Other forms of pain management such as physical therapy or acupuncture.

Opioids should be the last option to treat your pain. If opioids are prescribed they should be used for the shortest possible time. Safely dispose of any unused medications.

ISTOCK.COM/W/BRANDIS

3 Get Help

Opioids change how your brain works, triggering one part of it to demand more opioids and changing another part of it so it's harder to resist.⁷ Check with your union or employer to find out if they have a program to help, such as:

- ▶ An employee assistance program (EAP); or
- ▶ Member assistance program (MAP).

If you're having trouble stopping using opioids, check with your union or your doctor for help to find the best addiction treatment option for you.

Remember addiction is an illness that can be treated.

Local 4 Award Night

On January 11 the members of Roofers Local 4, Newark, NJ, held their holiday gathering and award night. Certificates were presented to graduates of the apprenticeship program, as well as those who took foreman training and single-ply flashing certification. The members of Local 4 would like to congratulate the new journeymen, and look forward to working with the trained foremen and single-ply-certified roofers, all of whom will help grow and improve the local union with their knowledge. ■

Local 97 Service Awards

Roofers Local 97, Champaign, IL, held a Christmas party where several members also received their service awards. Business Manager Richard Anders and President Shane Dowers presented pins to 20-, 25-, and 30-year members. Good job on sticking it out, guys. ■

Local 23 Members Gather for Awards

Roofers Local 23, South Bend, IN, held its pin party honoring longtime members. President Derek Carrington presented service pins to those in attendance. Not pictured are Isaac Searfross (25 years), Harold Smith (30 years), David Bellamy (30 years), Robert Hawkins (45 years), and William Presswood (45 years). ■

Traveling Crew Gets the Work Done

J.L. Adler Roofing & Sheet Metal, signatory contractor with Local 11 in Chicago, teamed up with Reese Equipment from Dixon, MO, to install ERSystems Polyurethane 300 top and finish coat on schools in Dixon. The job consisted of 350 squares metal roof on Dixon High School, 450 squares on Dixon Middle School, and 180 squares on Dixon Elementary. The traveling team worked four 10-hour days, spending the nights in Missouri. “We were able to turn this project into a union job for our roofers with Local 11,” said Gary Longhi with the company. “This project went really well for all.” The team included members Jose Lopez, Alvin Sturgis, Arturo Estrada, Andrew Sahagun, Jorge Cordova, Earl Gambling, Miguel Briceno, Abel Morales, and Nazario Cruz. ■

Local 30 Officer Retires

Local 30, Philadelphia, PA, President Clark Shiley retired recently and was honored by the local at a retirement party at the union hall. Brother Shiley's service goes back to 1979 when he was accepted into the third class of the Roofers Local 30 apprenticeship program, graduating in 1982. In 1993 he became shop steward and in 1996 was appointed apprentice coordinator/business agent. In 2006 Clark was elected president, a position he held until his retirement. He also held positions with the South Jersey Building Trades, the Northeast District Council and was trustee on Local 30 benefit funds. Thanks for your many years of service to the membership of Local 30. ■

President Emeritus Celebrates 55 Years

International President Emeritus Kinsey Robinson was thrilled to receive his pin commemorating 55 years of service with Roofers Local 189, Spokane, WA. Current President Jim Hadel and Secretary-Treasurer Mitch Terhaar presented the pin at the International's holiday lunch. Brother Robinson served as president from 2006 through January 8, 2022, and is now thoroughly enjoying his retirement, where he only has to see these people every couple months or so. ■

Retired International Representative Gabby Perea.

International Representative Perea Retires

After many years of faithful service to the Roofers Union, International Representative Gabriel “Gabby” Perea retired from the position on December 31, 2022. He had held the position since 2005.

Brother Perea started his career with Local 36, Los Angeles, CA, where in 1986 he began serving as business manager. During his tenure as international representative he tackled the challenges of overseeing the trusteeship of several locals, including Local 45, San Diego, CA; Local 27, Fresno, CA; and Local 123, Dallas, TX. He later transferred to Local 162 in Las Vegas, where he served as deputy trustee and worked to strengthen the local’s structure to successfully come out from trusteeship.

“I thank Gabby for his 18 years of dedication and hard work as an international representative and wish him a happy and healthy retirement,” said International President Jim Hadel. ■

Local 153 Apprenticeship Outreach

Roofers & Waterproofers Local 153, Tacoma, WA, participates in a pre-apprenticeship program called Palmer Pathways, and they have direct entry with the local’s apprenticeship program. Here, Instructor Ryan Wiechert is showing pre-apprentices how to hand weld with TPO. This program also provides a chance to use the new 4’ x 8’ training pods they had made for the training facility. This is a great example of how to recruit new, young roofers and waterproofers! ■

Pin Party for St. Louis Local 2

On October 22, Roofers Local 2, St. Louis, MO, had a pin party luncheon at the union hall for members receiving service pins, as well as all retirees. 67 members received their service pin in 2022—congratulations to all.

Local Unions Receive Award for Excellence in Organizing

Last year five local unions earned the debut John C. Martini Organizing Award. This award recognizes local unions for outstanding membership growth. Local 36, Los Angeles, CA, and Local 210, Erie, PA, were two of the locals that achieved their highest membership numbers in 25 years in 2021. Their hard work organizing resulted in membership gains that will improve work opportunities and benefits for their members, as well as all members of the United Union of Roofers, Waterproofers & Allied Workers. ■

25-Year Card for International Rep

At the most recent Executive Board meeting, International Representative Kevin King was presented his gold card and pin in honor of 25 years of service. Brother King is a member of Local 20, Kansas City, MO, and spent much of his career serving the local union as business manager before being named International Representative for the Midwest region. ■

Beautiful Boston Morning

Kevin Fritz, member of Roofers Local 33, Boston, MA, got this picture of his crew as the sun was coming up. The roofers, who work for John F. Shea, were on top of One Canal Park in Cambridge applying 300 squares of Firestone TPO. ■

Report of International Representative Jim Brown

I begin my report in Cumberland, MD, where I met with Local 34 Business Manager Ray Baer. We reviewed the final draft of the local's updated constitution and by-laws. I also assisted with the organizing efforts of a local contractor in the area. Next I went to Wheeling, WV, to attend a labor-management meeting with Marketing Director Jeff Eppenstein and Local 188 Business Manager Chuck Gracik. On to Pittsburgh, PA, where I met with Local 37 Business Manager John Flatt to discuss organizing opportunities and the success the local had using the truck and trailer at a job fair with Marketing Representative Matt Lloyd.

I then traveled to Erie, PA, where Local 210 Business Manager Scott Johnson and I discussed recruiting and organizing. The local has signed a new contractor adding to the growth of the local. Next I traveled to Bridgeport, CT, to meet with Local 12 Business Manager Kevin Guertin and assist with the local's financial reports and local operations. Then it was on to Paterson, NJ, to meet with Local 10 Business Manager Brian Jackson and assist with scheduling labor-management meetings.

Next, traveling to Philadelphia, I met with Local 30 Business Manager Shawn McCullough and the executive board to assist with the appointment of new officer positions. Back to Connecticut where I met with Local 9 Business Manager Mark Canino regarding concerns the local is having with a local contractor and what's needed to remedy the problem. While in Connecticut I also met with Business Manager Kevin Guertin of Local 12 to discuss a delinquent contractor.

Back in Philadelphia I attended Local 30's annual retirees' luncheon. I also spoke with Local 74, Buffalo, NY, Business Manager Nick Gechell about the local's success with having Marketing Reps Deborah Chunn and Andrae Richardson assist with their organizing efforts. I then made my way to Springfield, MA, to assist Local 248 with administrative operations as deputy trustee. From there I traveled to New York City to meet with Local 8

Business Manager Nick Siciliano. We discussed the local's growth and the upcoming two-year review.

In Philadelphia again I met with Business Manager Shawn McCullough regarding the Northeast District Council meeting. Then in Buffalo, NY, I attended the Niagara Building Trades Council meeting with Business Manager Nick Gechell and new Business Agent Mike Doyle. My next stop was in Rochester, NY, where I met with Local 22 Business Manager Marty Jerome and new Representative Adam Hoffman. We went over upgrading the JATC program.

In Syracuse, NY, I met with Local 195 Business Manager Charlie Gratton and the apprenticeship instructors during class time to observe their training program. Then in Local 4, Newark, NJ, I met with Business Manager Dave Critchley to discuss how we can protect our work from the carpenters.

I end my report in Philadelphia where I attended a retirement party for President Clark Shiley to honor his 43 years of loyal service to Local 30 and this industry. Thank you, Clark. ■

Report of International Representative Kevin King

I begin this report in Indianapolis with Local 119 Business Manager Brian Smith. We discussed potential changes to their constitution and by-laws and new policies for the local. I then attended the Indiana District Council meeting, which included a lot of discussion on manpower issues in several areas and also quite a bit of discussion on the carpenters.

I then traveled to Local 97, Campaign, IL, to meet with Business Manager Richard Anders. We worked on updating language in the local's constitution and by-laws and on policies for the local to get in place. We met with a potential new signatory contractor. We also discussed apprenticeship and upcoming classes.

Next I headed to Local 112, Springfield, IL, to work with Business Manager John Nicks. We reviewed his wishlist of new policies. We then worked on a residential agreement for the local as he has had some interest from a couple of contractors possibly signing as residential contractors.

My next stop was at Local 142, Des Moines, IA, to meet with Business Manager Mike Soroka. We worked on policies for the local side as well as the apprenticeship side. I also attended an apprenticeship board meeting where the discussion was on getting their classes going again very soon and updating their standards.

I then went to Local 106, Evansville, IN, to meet with Business Manager Mike Durham. We reviewed policies he would like to get in place for the local. We then talked about the manpower needed for a large project in Kentucky and discussed his issues and concerns with a local signatory contractor.

In Rock Island, IL, I visited Local 32 to help Business Manager Don Taets. The building that the local's office is in had a pipe burst in the room that has their records in and flooded the room. They've started to dry out the records to try to salvage them. We went over the records retention policy to see what needed to be kept and what could be disposed of. It looks like we will be able to save all of the records.

This brings up an important issue about having records stored offsite from a local's offices in case a catastrophe were to happen. International Secretary-Treasurer Terhaar sent an email out recently from the Office of Labor-Management Standards on electronic record keeping. I hope that all the locals will read this very informative article and take a look at getting your records stored electronically offsite in case something like this happens. ■

Report of International Vice President Mike Vasey

I start my report at the Mid-States District Council meeting where I swore in the newly elected officers. I then attended the Local 44, Cleveland, OH, events committee, executive board and local union meetings. Next I traveled to Local 75, Dayton, OH, to attend the membership meeting and review finances and work outlook for area. Business Manager James Stiles did an excellent job manning an extraordinary amount of work at Wright Patterson Air Force Base. I then traveled to Charleston, WV, for the Local 185 membership meeting and election. All candidates ran unopposed and I swore them in that evening.

I worked with West Virginia locals including Local 185, Charleston; Local 188, Wheeling; and Local 242, Parkersburg, to prepare for the Federal Heavy and Highway wage survey. Then in Columbus, OH, I attended the Local 86 executive board and member meetings. I also traveled to Toledo, OH, for Local 134's executive board and union meetings.

In Wheeling, WV, I attended the Local 188 executive board and regular meetings. We reviewed finances, procedures, JATC instructors and labor-management meetings. Next in Cleveland, OH, I met with the Local 44 metro area Business Representative Bill Franklin to do preliminary research on target companies and contact multiple individuals for spring work for a campaign directed by Business Manager Chuck Lavelle.

Next I traveled to Columbus, OH, to meet with Local 86 Business Manager Marvin Cochran to review upcoming projects and discuss participation in apprenticeship readiness programs to recruit future worker candidates. I then worked with Local 188, Wheeling, WV, to prepare an addendum for the general contract.

In Canton, OH, I attended the Local 88 membership meeting and reviewed finances, procedures and upcoming apprentice classes. I then traveled to Parkersburg, WV, to attend the Local 242 membership meeting where I swore in the new officers. I also reviewed the local's contract termination notice date for negotiations next spring with Business Manager Tim Maxcy.

I traveled to Local 134 in Toledo, OH, to attend the executive board and regular meetings and review finances, procedures and area projects. Business Manager Mike Kujawa filed a jurisdiction dispute against United Brotherhood of Carpenters on a shingles PLA project. I worked on preliminary background information and contacted a UBC rep for adjudication, and also reviewed past jurisdictional awards.

I next traveled to Local 188, Wheeling, WV, for the wake of Brother John Burdine who passed away falling through the deck at work. May he rest in peace. I then traveled to Local 86, Columbus, OH, to attend the inaugural Intel project tripartite meeting with Business Manager Marvin Cochran. Next as assigned we had a telephonic International Executive Board meeting to confirm appointments of West Coast International Reps. Congratulations to Brent Beasley and Leo Marsura on your appointments and to Gabriel Perea on your retirement.

Finally in Local 86, Columbus, OH, I reviewed the National Construction Agreement for the Intel project with Marvin Cochran and discussed planning for upcoming projects in the area. In closing I hope all members remember to organize, recruit, and most of all stay safe! ■

Minutes of the Indiana District Council

The meeting of the Indiana Roofers District Council was held November 18, 2022.

Reports of Delegates and Guests

Clinton Grayless, Local 150, reported they are slowly growing and contractors have plenty of work through the start of next year. They're having training classes two weeks in January and two weeks in February so contractors don't run into any issues with manpower. They've been working on recruitment and have a big casino project coming up.

Assistant to the International President Gig Ritenour discussed leadership training for new business managers at the D.C. office to learn how things are done at the International level. NRIPP is funded at 113%, which is great. Please send pictures of members doing waterproofing work. Protect your work at all costs.

Attend job fairs and try to get your apprenticeship programs in these schools to reach out to the next generation of roofers. Send in pictures of members fishing/hunting for the magazine and jobsite photos for next year's convention in Las Vegas in October.

International Vice President Joe Pozzi will be visiting locals to help new business managers use all the tools at their disposal. Use public record information before going to pre-jobs to help ensure more work for your contractors. When receiving information make sure everything is the original document—don't accept any paperwork that has information marked out.

International Representative Kevin King reminded attendees to give their school board information so they know if any contractors are bidding work in the area. Don't forget that safety is the number one issue—nothing is more important than going home healthy to our families at the end of the day.

Asst. Director of Market Development Bill Alexander said they are actively looking for members when they get laid off; no one should be on unemployment if they don't want to because there are really big projects in Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky. Also, contact the Marketing Dept. to have GAF come to your local and do some pre-apprenticeship training.

Marcus Bass, Local 26, gave the financial report. He then discussed having a booth at the International Roofing Expo. The local has been using Indeed for recruitment and it seems to be working pretty well. Nominations are coming up for a couple spots on their executive board.

Brian Smith, Local 119, said work is looking good and they have added a lot of members. They are working on some PLAs on some big projects. Looking to get retention numbers up for the apprenticeship program.

Josh Land, Local 119, said Chrysler is building a new plant and one of their contractors was awarded the project. They should be running 100+ workers on this job and the local will make sure to provide all the manpower the contractors could ask for.

Scott Cooper, Local 26, said carpenters are training TPO welding locally at their new facility trying to steal work as usual. The contract negotiations class in Chicago was very helpful.

Mike Durham, Local 106, discussed manpower needs and recruitment strategies. He discussed some contractors that he's been trying to get to sign a CBA, as well as upcoming NMA projects and how to handle contractors on NMAs that aren't signatory. Carpenters are trying to get back into the KY state building trades. He said no but other crafts think it would make sense financially.

Brandon Burke, Local 42, said they voted for a three-year contract that includes wage increases, increased travel pay, foreman pay, skills training reimbursement, Saturday pay, and starting wages for first-year apprentices. Work is great and they need more manpower; recruiting has become a little easier since starting wage increased to over $20.00.

Ron Stiles, Local 75, discussed the new three-year contract. They are moving to block training for apprenticeship class. He went to a big job fair trying to bring in some young blood.

Charles Waddell, Local 23, said work is going good. He talked about the benefits of using Helmets to Hardhats and encouraged everyone to set up an account if they haven't yet. They need sponsorship.

A motion was made, seconded and carried to donate $1000 to Helmets to Hardhats.

Sincerely,
Clinton Grayless
Recording Secretary

V.P. Paul Bickford, Sen. Fetterman, Sec'y-Tr. Mitch Terhaar and Int'l Rep. Jim Brown.

Senator Attends Union Function

Pennsylvania Senator John Fetterman calls himself a friend of labor, and it shows. The senator, who was running for office at the time, attended the Laborers' "Friends of Labor" annual charity dinner in Philadelphia last October, where he met with representatives from the Roofers Union. The event draws a number of prominent political figures each year who bring awareness to the needs of area charities. ■

RPELF Means Union Jobs

The Roofers Political Education and Legislative Fund (RPELF) has been hard at work backing pro-labor political candidates who will advocate for the livelihoods of union roofers and waterprooferers. When these candidates win, we can count on them to champion legislation that supports good union jobs, safety, and education.

Roofers Local 220, Orange, CA, used RPELF funds to back Avelino Valencia last November. Valencia ended up winning his election for California State Assembly District 68, which includes Orange County. He has noted that local jobs and working families are among his top priorities. ■

Illinois Passes Workers' Rights Amendment

On November 8, Illinois voters approved the "Workers' Rights Amendment," which amends the state constitution to guarantee workers a broad right to organize and collectively bargain. This historic legislation makes Illinois the first state in the union to ban right-to-work laws in its constitution. Hence no right-to-work will be coming to Illinois ever! ■

Governor JB Pritzker signs the constitutional amendment protecting Illinoisans' rights to collectively bargain.

Honoring Those Who Made Our Union Great

With a sense of gratitude, The Journeyman Roofer & Waterproofer magazine publishes the names of members who have received service pins from their Local Unions since the previous magazine for 50 or more years of continuous membership.

Our long-term members fought for and struggled for the benefits that made our union great and we now enjoy. We appreciate all that these members have done and still do to further the goals of working people and their families. Next time you see a member listed below, take the time to thank him or her for their service and dedication to our Union.
